

Are you looking for cost effective surface protection?

There's little point creating something beautiful if it's to be merely scratched or damaged during transit and delivery. A small investment in quality surface protection not only prevents expensive damage, and costly replacements but avoids customer disappointment and damage to your reputation.

Protecting surfaces susceptible to scratching or marking needn't be expensive. Sancell polyethylene foam is an inexpensive insurance policy that ensures your craftsmanship is the only thing your most discerning customers will notice when they receive their goods.

Available in a range of thicknesses and roll lengths, there's a surface protection solution for everyone from the largest manufacturing companies to smaller bespoke cabinet makers and anyone in between.

PLEASE NOTE: While Sancell offers suggested applications, it is the buyers/users duty to determine the conditions necessary for the safe use of this product.

FOAM BAGS... Softer than silk

Foam is soft, light and cost effective. It provides all-over surface protection for an almost unlimited range of applications. Some would argue foam is the perfect packing product.

So when Sancell were asked to improve on this already nifty product, we didn't change it, simply altered it slightly to make it more user-friendly.

Sancell Foam Bags are easy to use and custom made to your particular requirements*. Contact us today to find out more about this all new product.

Imagine saving valuable time each day by having your packing foam customised to your specific needs. Sancell offers eight foam thicknesses in a range of widths and lengths (see table to left). Choosing the most suitable foam product minimises waste and ensures you only purchase what you'll use. Slitting and perforating are available to improve packing times and reduce material cutting and handling.

As a testament to our commitment to best practice across all sectors of our business, Sancell Pty Ltd have adopted internal systems to achieve certification in ISO standards for Quality (9001), Health & Safety (18001) and of course the Environment (14001). Sancell Pty Ltd is the only ISO accredited bubble plastics extruder in Australia.
